Dear Guests and Colleagues,

It is our pleasure to welcome you to Budapest and the ETNA Conference! We hope you enjoy your stay in our vibrant city, rich in history, architecture, and culture.

Budapest has long been known as the City of Spas, with thermal baths dating back to Roman times and later enriched by the Ottoman era. Today, you can still relax in historic hammams or visit one of the many thermal baths across the city.

The 8th district, where our conference takes place, is known as the Palace District, home to aristocratic palaces, prestigious universities, and the Hungarian National Museum. Nearby, you'll find stunning landmarks like the Parliament, the Museum of Fine Arts, and the elegant Andrássy Avenue. If you have time, take a stroll in City Park (Városliget) and enjoy its charming atmosphere.

Budapest is a cultural hub, offering concerts, festivals, and performances year-round. We highly recommend visiting the Hungarian State Opera House for an unforgettable experience.

No visit to Budapest is complete without tasting some Hungarian specialties like goulash(gulyás), stuffed cabbage(töltött káposzta), and delicious strudels(rétes). Be warned—this is not a place for dieting!

We hope your time at the conference and in Budapest will be a memorable experience, and that this visit is just the beginning of many more to come.

Enjoy your stay and feel at home!

About Budapest

Brief Introduction:

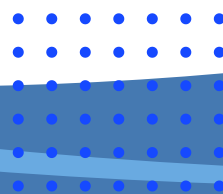

Budapest, one of the most beautiful capitals in Europe, spans both sides of the Danube River. It is known for its stunning architecture, historic thermal baths, and vibrant cultural life. The city offers a perfect blend of history, art, and modern life for its visitors.

Weather:

In June, the average temperature ranges between 20–25°C, with occasional warmer days. It's recommended to wear light, comfortable clothing, but bring a light jacket for cooler evenings. While rain is less frequent, it's always a good idea to have an umbrella just in case.

Currency & Payment Options:

The official currency is the Hungarian Forint (HUF), but credit cards are widely accepted, especially in larger restaurants and stores. ATMs are readily available, and card payments are a convenient way to make purchases.

Transportation

From the Airport to the City Center:

- Public Transportation: We strongly recommend using public transportation as it is both quick and affordable. The BKK 100E bus connects Budapest Airport directly to the city center, with a stop at Kálvin tér, which is close to the Semmelweis University Faculty of Health Sciences. The journey takes approximately 30-40 minutes. For more detailed information on ticket prices and schedules, please visit: BKK Ticket Information.
- Taxi: A taxi from the airport to the city center takes approximately 25-30 minutes, costing around 6000-8000 HUF, depending on traffic. It is recommended to use the official taxi services available at the taxi stand to avoid overcharging.
- Transfer Services: Several private transfer services are available from the airport to the city center. These can be booked online in advance, with prices ranging from 6000-10000 HUF.

Public Transportation

Passenger transport on a single day is provided by some 1,900 buses, trams, trolleybuses, metro and suburban railway trains, which have more than 43 thousand departures combined.

Beside these options you can also travel with our public bike-sharing service MOL Bubi, taxi or special transport services like the Funicular, Chairlift, or boat.

Daytime transport
04:30-23:50

Night transport
23:50-04:30

BKK App / BudapestGO:

The BKK and BudapestGO mobile apps help with purchasing tickets, viewing timetables, and selecting the best routes. These apps are available for both Android and iOS devices and are free of charge, significantly enhancing the convenience of traveling around the city.

Public Transportation to Semmelweis University Faculty of Health Sciences:

The Semmelweis University Faculty of Health Sciences is easily accessible by public transportation, located in the 8th district of Budapest. The nearest metro stations, tram lines, and bus routes provide convenient access to the university.

Metro:

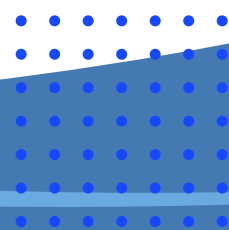

M4 (Green Line): The closest metro station to the university is Kálvin tér (M4), which is a short walk from the Faculty of Health Sciences. From here, you can quickly reach the university by foot.

Tram:

Tram Line 4 & 6: These tram lines run along Rákóczi út and stop at Kálvin tér. From there, it's a short walk to the university.

Bus:

Several buses stop near the university, including Bus 9, 72, and 83 at the Kálvin tér stop. From here, you can easily walk to the university campus.
